Reviewing scientific and educational material (REV)

(application submitted by the journal editor on behalf of the journal reviewers)

Scope of recognition:

Reviewing scientific and educational material (REV) - activities performed within the scope of editorial procedures for journals indexed in PubMed.

Rationale:

A journal can submit an application on behalf of its reviewers and, in doing so, can benefit from a special package price based on the number of reviews per year (see table below).

As a first step the journal will need to register with the UEMS-EACCME®.

<https://eaccme.uems.eu/RegisterJournalEditorProvider.aspx>

Once the journal is registered in the UEMS-EACCME® database, it will need to apply every year with the UEMS-EACCME® for recognition of reviews performed during the last year. Applications will be submitted per semester.

In addition to this the UEMS-EACCME® (through its EACCME® reviewers) will perform quality control checks of no more than 5% of the reviews of papers submitted to the journal.

Material to be submitted through the EACCME® website:

- Application form with:

- Name of the journal
- Impact factor of the journal
- Excel file comprising:
 - Name of the articles reviewed
 - Review date

Association internationale sans but lucratif – International non-profit organisation

- Name of the reviewer(s)
- Reference in PubMed
- Anonymized reviewers' reviews
- Billing information

Reviewing process:

Applications must be submitted on the EACCME® website <https://eaccme.uems.eu>

Quality control check

A reviewer from the UEMS-EACCME® will review 5% of randomly selected reviews as a quality control measure. This means that in order to benefit from the UEMS-EACCME® recognition the journal will need to send in advance anonymized reviews that will be checked for quality by the UEMS reviewers.

The reviewing process will take two weeks from the date of receipt of the application.
